

Jennifer Pearson is the Vice President of the national Australian Association for Environmental Education Inc and the Convenor of the WA Chapter.

Jennifer has a teaching & lecturing career spanning over 35 years working with early years, primary, secondary and tertiary pre-service teachers in science and technology & enterprise learning areas. Her doctoral research examined how teachers in a Yr 2 and Yr 5 class implemented a new science program into their practice.

Recognition of her volunteer effort as in EfS at a state and national level was recognised in 2003 with a Centenary Medal for Service to the Environment by the Federal Government. In 2009 Jennifer was awarded the AAEE national “Educator of the Year”.

Education for Sustainability (EfS) is a lifelong focus, and she was instrumental in initiating the Australian Schools Initiative in WA. Jennifer’s development of and volunteer work with Little Green Steps builds on her professional focus of providing support for EfS in the early years sector to ‘bridge the gap’ for educators.
